After this transaction Fall reccommended to Denby that the lease and contracts be not awarded until there was further legislation by Congress, Hogan added, taking the osition that Fall therefore sought to prevent Doheny from getting the contracts in the absence of further legislation, thus showing that the "$100,000 loan from an old friend of 40 years" did not influence of $100,000 loan from an old friend by $100,000 loan from an old friend of 40 years" did not influence of $100,000 loan from an old friend $100,000 loan from an old fri he Doheny lease. San Francisco, Oct. 5 (By A. P.).

The Examiner says a naval board of inquiry yesterday determined that the death of Col. Alexander S.

The board, it was reported, on the slaying there of Ernest L. Whitman, a bond salesman, during a holdup at the Belmore National Bank in April, 1923. Troopers said they have established that the gang was composed of seven men shold up a truckload of registered air mail at Hadley Field last night. The machine driven by the two, who collided with John Struyf's machine, was followed by another big car which contained five men. The board, it was reported, on xamination of the steering gear of Col. Williams' automobile, found it was warped to such an extent that two badly injured bandits who last it would tend to pull the car to the left, and this factor, together with probably fatally wounded his son the confusion of passing trains, in what police believed to have been caused the colonel accidentally to

DEATH IN TRAFFIC STIRS OFFICIALS AND PARENTS

Michigan Park Citizens Say Pupils Are Needlessly Exposed to Danger.

PRINCIPALS SEEK RELIEF

Michigan Park citizens held an indignation meeting last night against the failure of the District officials to provide adequate police traffic protection for school children or to provide a sidewalk as a safe-guard. Repeated requests for re-lief have been ignored, it was declared, and some of the members threatened to take their children out of school. One parent made known that he had already done so.

The school, it was pointed out, is located at a point on Michigan avenue from which the view of traffic is obstructed both ways. Traffic is unusually heavy at this time, it was said, because of the travel to and from the Laurel races.

Lives of the children in grades ranging from the kindergarten to he fourth are seriously endangered every time they go to or leave the school, it was declared. Lack of a sidewalk makes it necessary for them to walk along the side of the with traffic passing rapidly

The use of Listerine for dandruff is not

IT'S a fact: Listerine, the safe antiseptic, and Dandruff simply do not get along together. Many were incredulous when we first announced this. But the word is fast going around from the lips of those who have found how wonderfully it works.

As you probably know, dandruff is a germ disease and that annoying white shower on dark clothes is a warning of more serious scalp trouble—falling hair, possibly baldness.

Try Listerine for, say, one week, every night and learn for yourself how remarkably it works.

Together the followed systematically, does the trick.

Moreover, Listerine will not discolor the hair nor will it stain fabrics. And it is not greasy or smelly.

Many of the better barber shops are now prepared to give you this treatment. Try Listerine for dandruff. You'll be delighted with the results.

PREPARING TO BORROW MORE.

Premier Poincare is reliably reported to have reached the conclusion that the Berenger-Mellon debt agreement should be ratified, without amendment or condition; but he expects to make an oral reservation which will be published in the official journal without being a part of the act of ratification. So far as the United States is concerned, ratification would be unconditional, but the oral reservation, it is hoped, will induce the French parliament to ratify the agreement.

Evidently Premier Poincaire is cooperating with Foreign Minister Briand in trying to bring into effect the agreement reached by Briand and Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany. This agreement has for its basis the floating of a huge loan secured by German railroad bonds. The bonds can not be sold in Germany or France. They must be sold in England and the United States-principally in the United States. The French statesmen have discovered that they need not hope to borrow money in this country until they have arranged to pay what has already been borrowed. Therefore they are planning to put through the Berenger-Mellon agreement. They do this with extreme reluctance. They could not get the agreement through parliament without some "safeguard" clause providing that France should not be required to pay if Germany should default on reparation payments. But the United States will not agree to such a clause. Hence Premier Poincare will ask to have the agreement ratified unconditionally, but accompanied by an oral statement setting forth the safeguard clause.

What the United States desires is adjustment of the French debt. It does not care what oral statements Premier Poincare may make to his own people. They will not be binding upon the United States.

Hereafter, if after ratification of the debt agreement the French and German governments should approach the United States with the request that it sanction the purchase by Americans of a large amount of German railroad bonds, the proposition will be examined on its merits. The fact that the French government may have ratified the debt agreement will not bind the United States to approve the proposed bond issue.

BIG BUTTER AND EGG MEN.

The National Butter, Egg and Poultry association is in session in Chicago. The members are discussing competition, transportation. public confidence.

This is a vast national business-the handling, storage and marketing of 1,250,000,000 of butter, 500,000,000 pounds of cheese, 5,000,000 cases of eggs and 90,000, 000 pounds of poultry.

Without a coordinated and effective system, the consuming public could not possibly be served with these necessaries of life so accessible to all. The average family could not enjoy the privilege of fresh butter, fresh cheese and fresh poultry at all times were it not for the vast system of assembling production, storing supplies in refrigerators and distributing supplies in refrigerator cars.

More than 75,750,000 pounds of butter, 63,-750,000 pounds of cheese, 3,500,000 cases of, eggs and 71,000,000 pounds of poultry are kept in cold storage to meet the demands of the public. To maintain a regular supply, not too much nor too little for the average demand, requires skill of the first order. An excess would cause enormous losses and a shortage yould increase prices. The success of the odern system of handling, storing and distributing these products of American farms and dairies is a tribute to the genius and foresight of the association. But for it, the cost of living would be higher and the comfort of living more uncertain.

CARMI THOMPSON'S CONCLUSIONS.

The conclusions reported to have been eached by Carmi Thompson, the President's vestigator in the Philippines, that the people of those islands are not prepared for in dence, will create no surprise in this Independence for the Filipino ple must await their education in the science of self-government.

hough safeguarding the exact terms of s conclusions, Mr. Thompson issued a state-ent in Manila on Monday, as he was about to sail, that was there interpreted as indicating that he would recommend congressional action that would definitely and finally dispel the es of certain native leaders for early ines of certain native leaders for early inendence. At the same time the Philippine Recently there have been evidences of a desire among Americans and Filipinos alike for a definite, constructive policy which will insure the proper development of the islands. There ought to be little trouble in bringing this about. Capital would take care of itself; the chief concern of the government should be to guard the rights of the natives. Commissioner Thompson has pointed out that with the development of the wonderful natural resources of the islands higher standards and better working conditions will follow. This would lead to better social conditions. From such antecedents come a people equipped for self-government and independence.

PROTECTING SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Upon the opening of the public school term the superintendent of police issued an order to precinct commanders to survey all schools in their territories and make certain that an officer was stationed at each for the protection of pupils crossing the streets. Despite these precautions, last Monday an 8-year-old boy, fearful of being tardy, dashed thoughtlessly across the street in the path of an automobile. The coroner's jury, which investigated the case, brought in a verdict of accidental death and exonerated the driver of the machine. At the same time, however, it recommended to the commissioners that steps be taken to safeguard the lives of pupils.

The chairman of a committee in charge of school safety at a meeting of the supervising principals yesterday put before them the matter of making a test, in three selected schools, of the boy patrol system. This system, despite the fact that Chicago reports it to be impracticable, has proved its value in several smaller communities. It has one advantage over police guards at crossings, in that, whereas only one officer might be available to a school, the supply of older boys capable of assisting small children is practically unlimited. If the seriousness of the duty is thoroughly impressed on the boy officers by both parents and teachers, there is no reason why they can not be as capable guards as police officers. The scheme is well worth a trial, and may prove to be the solution to the problem of providing safety to small children in school

COMPULSORY AUTO INSURANCE.

The traffic bureau and the office of the traffic director, according to reports, are giving some thought to the feasibility of a compulsory liability insurance law for the District. No unanimity of opinion has been reached Laws of this sort are functioning in Connecticut, and will go into effect next January in Massachusetts. Largely of an experimental nature, the effect they have on reducing accidents involving property damage and loss of life will be watched with interest.

Irresponsibility of drivers is one of the worst bugbears with which traffic authorities have to contend. The classified columns of any newspaper, and the second-hand "auto sale lots" are mute but tangible evidence that any one can become the owner of an automobile with as little capital as $25. The Massachusetts law, designed to make each automobile owner financially responsible for whatever damage he may cause, provides that before registration plates are issued the owner must exhibit a certificate to the effect that he carries on that vehicle proper liability insurance. In lieu of insurance he may de posit a specified sum of money equal to the face value of the insurance policy. Obviously, from the standpoint of the person whose property may be damaged, the law, assuring proper financial reimbursement, is good.

Against the law, since responsibility de olves finally upon an insurance company, is held up the charge that it creates an increase of individual carelessness. Opponents claim that in Connecticut each month save March witnessed an increase in accidents. Proponents advance the counter claim that when insurance rates, based on a balance drawn bestandardization, cold storage, grading and tween premiums received and claims paid, are necessarily raised because of additional accidents, the individual will again awaken to his personal responsibility.

Automobile liability and owner responsibility are important questions. Whether they can be solved by compulsory insurance laws remains to be proved.

AIMING AT AIR SUPREMACY.

Alan Cobham, the new idol of London, deerved the rousing reception accorded him last week on the completion of his recordbreaking flight from England to Australia and oack. It was a great performance and well calculated to appeal to the popular imagination. He had previously made two long flights, one to India and the other to the Cape of Good Hope and back, covering in the latter a distance of 17,000 miles. The Australian flight, however, eclipsed all that had gone before it. The distance covered was 28,000 miles, and the actual flying time was only 320 hours, or slightly over thirteen days. The outward journey, begun on June 30, lay from Rochester through Europe to Greece and thence across Asia Minor to India and the Malay Peninsula, and over the sea to Port Dar win Australia which was reached on August 5. The flight was thence continued to Melbourne, Sydney, and other portions of the island continent. At every stage of the journey out and back, and through all sorts of veather, the giant De Haviland seaplane proceeded on its way without a stop due to engine trouble or failure of any part of the mahinery. No wonder the intrepid aviator received the enthusiastic plaudits of the English populace all the way from Hastings until he lighted gracefully on the Thames under the hadow of Big Ben and in front of the houses of parliament. on the terrace of the house of commons had a special significance of its own. It included Sir Sutherland, Sir Charles Wakefield, Sir Joseph Cook, the Lord High Chamberlain, the Mar Hedjaz, and the Maharajah of Burdwan his own behalf, Sir Samuel Hoare hailed Cobham as "one of the greatest pilot pioneers of the empire," and as a man whose "great fly-ing exploit has succeeded where politicians sometimes fail, by bringing the peoples of the pregnant message which said: "On your safe return from Australia I offer you a cordia welcome home, and congratulate you heartily on the successful termination of yet another historic flight."

Cobham's own idea of the value of his fligh is summed up in the following statement which he gave out to an interviewer:

I want to convince the people at home that the greatest invention in history for the future of the British empire is aviation. Aviation will make Australia. Instead of farmers being days away from each other, they will become a matter of a half hour or so by plane. An ideal airline for seaplanes, or flying boats, would be from Calcutta to the port of Darwin.

That is a sufficiently patriotic, praise worthy and practical motive; but in the hearts of the small assemblage on the terrace of the house of commons greater hopes and loftier ambitions were aroused by the success of Cobham's flight. It is no secret now that a giant airship is at present being built for the England-India-Australia service. The utmost secrecy is, however, being preserved as to the details of its construction. Visitors are kept away from the hangars by armed guards, and every one of the 300 employes is sworn to secrecy. These men are strictly confined in groups to separate parts of the building process, so that one group does not know what another group is doing. Not more than half a dozen persons in all know anything about the complete plans of the airship

With fliers of the proved skill and ability of Cobham and superairships of the new type, it is evident that the British have some good grounds for hoping to gain the supremacy of the air.

FOREST FIRES.

Lumbermen of the West are convinced that if the national forests are to be preserved from the fire menace, which has been extraordinarily great this year, the government must appro priate larger sums for that purpose. Protection of these forests against destruction is so vital to the welfare of the nation that there should be no haggling over the question of dollars. A large delegation of Pacific Northwest business men is coming to Washington next week, to discuss this subject with President Coolidge and the director of the budget.

The extent of fire losses this year in the tim ber States of the Pacific coast, both to the government and to individual owners, and the narrow escape of large areas of the chief reserves of virgin timber during the recent season of forest fires, is appalling. There were 7,408 such fires this year in California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana. Altogether 86,-000,000 acres of national forest land were menaced; 745,000 acres were burned over, and the actual public timber loss is estimated at $3,500,000. The loss in the national forests, experts say, was four times as great as in private timber, due largely, it is asserted, to inadequate fire-fighting funds. The total cost of combatting these fires is placed at $4,750,000, and less than half that cost wa borne by the government. President Coolidge is understood to be in sympathy with proposals looking to better forest fire protection, and the delegation comes to Washington to lay all the facts before him. It would seem to be poor economy to risk the loss of what is, perhaps, the government's remaining greatest natural resource through appropriations insufficient to maintain and equip the forest fire-fighting service.

THE PASSING OF PETTIGREW.

Richard Franklin Pettigrew, 78 years of age died in Sioux Falls, S. Dak., yesterday.

When the committee on resolutions brought into the Republican national convention of 1896 the platform containing the plank which committed the party to the gold standard, without any qualifications whatever, many of the delegates from the Northwestern States walked out, actually weeping, because they could not support a party which, in their opinion, would bring financial ruin to every State that produced silver. One of that small coterie was Frank Pettigrew, of South Dakota.

name given at his hirth on a mont farm, was Richard Franklin Pettigrew. But all his intimates called him by the more familiar diminutive. Pettigrew grew up with Dakota, to which Territory he went as a laborer. He became one of its foremost leaders, and supported the division of the Territory and its admission as two States. Being an inhabitant of the southern portion, he became one of the first two senators from South Dakota, and was reelected in 1895 for a second term of six years. Pettigrew was a man of ultra emphatic opinions. So bitter was he in denounce ng the action of Congress in ratifying the treaty with Spain, under which the United States assumed authority over the Philippines, that he was accused of being disloyal to his country, and later during the world war, was actually under espionage because of his supposed sympathy with the Russian revolution

With a powerful mind and with astonishing ability in the use of invective, Pettigrew had no following, and of late years he seemed to have soured on his fellows. He was a victim of his own antagonisms, disappointed because those with whom he came in contact failed to accept his pessimistic view of life and the future of his country.

The EVOLUTION OF SECURITY

The Royal Promise

The birth of the idea of the modern promissory note occurred during the Dark Ages, when the monarchs in order to replenish their treasury often borrowed money from their wealthy subjects, giving them in return the "Royal Promise" to pay. Unfortunately, the monarch often either forgot about his promise or was dethroned before the money was to be returned. Needless to say that this type of security was not very enduring.

Today, First Mortgages are someone's promise to pay secured by a parcel of that someone's real estate worth generally about double the amount promised. There is now no question about his forgetting his promise, because he has pledged valuable property which he will lose if he should forget. This is why the investor takes very little risk, today, in investing in First Mortgages.

And through Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Company he can now receive interest at 6½% on these safe securities.

BONDS GAIN SLIGHTLY IN BROADENED BUYING

Foreign, Rail, Industrial and Utilities Issues Advance.

LIBERTYS ARE STRONGER

New York, Oct. 5 (By A. P.).—Although unable to make much headway, the bond market today displayed a better tone in reflection of the downward trend of money ratas. Buying was on a broader scale than at any other time in recent weeks, lifting a number of representative foreign, railroad, adustrial and public utility issues actionally higher.

Trading attention was focused for a time on a vigorous buying movement in bonds of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co., which was attributed to reports that the rival Brooklyn-Manhattan Co. was negotiating for control. Despite the subsequent denial of these rumors, the bonds held most of their gains, the 5 per cent issues closing more than a point higher.

Fears that the drastic decline in cotton prices would adversely affect conditions in the South and possibly reduce the earnings of the railroads serving this section brought mild pressure to bear against Southern Railway, Atlantic Coast Line, Louisville & Nashville, Frisco, Seaboard and "Katy" obligations but losses were limited to fractions. Delaware & Hudson convertible 5s slumped more than 2 points. St. Paul issues were higher.

Active trading developed in Chilean obligations coincident with the Active trading developed in Chilean obligations coincident with the announcement that New York bankers were drafting bids for a new long-term loan for the government, which may be awarded late this week. French bonds were firm and Berlin 6½s sold at the highest level of the year.

Liberty and Treasury bonds were visibly strengthened by the change in the money outlook, substantial advances being scored by the most active issues, the Liberty second and fourth 4½s.

the extraordinary came in the sixth inning when Bottomley saved Bell by a brilliant stop to catch Meusel at first.

The shower before the game and the first shut-out. He worked stuthen one during it might have made poor fielding excusable but there was only one called error. Down in Kentucky, the hard = coots have the boys all lined up to mock every last dime out of the ron men with LORETTA BROOKS in the seventh spasm. Unless you are a sister to Dumb Dora, you will know what to do with this info.

NOR EASTER should cake walk in the sixth, and it will be a good warm-up for Saturday's Golden Rod.

JOE MARRONE III has a good chance to spill the beans in the fifth, and I would not be surprised.

fifth, and I would not be surprised to see Moss Goldblatt take a run at OLD SLIP with TEAK. She is awfully good right now.

Over at Fairmount, the lads who handle the tick tocks say Bedwell will kill a flock of geese with LA MORTE in the fourth race. This youngster was given a secret prep in Maryland before shipping west. Another hot one at the Collinaville track and fresh from New ville track and fresh from New York is PAT CALHOUN in the fifth.

They will all have to step some to ake this gelding. More anon.

Here's a trick E. R. Bradley shipped down to Laurel for a mopping up. Breezed three eighths in 371-5 and five eighths in 1:02 over at Havre de Grace before he was put on the cars. Goes in the opening spasm and I don't mean maybe.

Look out for BUMPKIN. Is entered in two races and will probably go in the fourth. This is a pippin and is fresh off the cars from Belmont park. Sulky SARAZEN hooks up with SON OF JOHN in the day's feature. SARAZEN went an easy mile in 1:42 the other morning and, to the man in the watch tower, it looks like there will be something doing. A word to the wise is worth a couple kicks in the slats.

Another one to be yanked from the old pickle vat is RIGEL in the seventh. That last race of his went for Sweeney, the gent who tends the morgue.

Tie in Junior Soccet

Langley and Columbia Junior

A TLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 5 (By A. The former champion appeared before Vice Chancellor Ingersoll to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed. The application had been made by Kearns previous to the recent championship battle. In August, 1923, said Dempsey, Kearns visited him at Saratoga Springs telling him that he, Kearns, had forged Dempsey's name to a contract and that he had been caught by the New York State boxcommission, and feared crim-

THIS WEEK IN THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

THERE'S no question about it the university men set the styles. The rugged tweed materials, the loose fitting of the season's clothing, call for a special shoe, a nonchalant shoe.

The broad toe with a soft box, the bellows tongue, the shovel leather heel with a tap sole make this blucher oxford right for this season. It's time to change to fall weight shoes, and this one will make you a good change.

THE people in the bleachers looked about them for refuge and some did duck down the runways and beneath the seats, but there was not much protection there, and the majority, with something of the varsity spirit that makes people sit through sleet and snow at football games, stood pat and let it rain.

The patrons of the pavilions are made of less hardy material, however, and those who were sitting beyond the meager over-hang of the roof cleared out and waited under cover.

It seems odd that, after all the talk of the danger of long lefthanded hitters driving balls into the right feld stand, the only man to do it was a right-handed pitcher. Haines is a pretty dangerous hitter if the pitchers are not careful with him. That home run seemed to take the heart out of the Yanks, It also gave Haines more heart. It strikes me that the Yanks have made a bad study of the Cardinal batters. Either that or the pitchers have bad control. There were several instances today where the pitchers got away lucky in pitching to the batter's strength instead of his weakness.

As a result of their being in a slump, the Yanks now seem to be ASKETBALL enthusiasts turned out in full force for last night's meeting of the Washington Recreation league at which it was decided that the regular junior circuit would enter upon its third year, and in all probability a senior circuit will be organized for the convenience of the faster teams which have expressed a desire to join forces with the W. R. L.

Miss Margaret Craig was appointed to communicate with the senior teams and Miss Louise Sullivan will report on the juniors. An invitation was extended to the D. C. Girls' league to enter their second teams in the W. R. L., and Mr. Jack Haas, representing them, said the matter would be taken up at the meeting of the D. C.'s on Thursday night and requested that the W. R. L. have representatives present.

Among those present were Mrs. H. R. yesterday, practically every stock on the list yielded a point or more. Among the most active issues hit hardest were Atlantic Cosat Line which dropped below 200 and closed 8% points off. Mack Trucks, which touched a new low for the year, and Athaison & Manhattan Electrical Supply, which lost 6 points in the first, few minutes and finished 8 points down. Weakness in Atchison was attributed to disappointment over President Storey's announcement that the dividend would not be increased.

Among the stronger issues were the Van Sweringen rails, May Department Stores and American Smelters, which jumped nearly 2 points following the announcement that the annual dividend rate would be increased from $5 to $8. They were unable to maintain their gains, however, against the final avalanche of selling and ended the day 1 % net lower.

All through the day the professionals were concentrating their efforts on General Motors and United States Steel. In periods of greatest stress, they went down with the exert, but their showing on the whole was more creditable than that of the average stock. The copper shares, which spurted forward last week, were heavily dealt in and were rather well supported slightly below yesterday's closing prices.

Among the other issues hard hit were General Asphalt preferred, which lost 11 points; Delaware & Hudson, 7; DuPont, 64; Brooklyn Collon, Pele Iron. (1) colum. Carbon (4). Collon, See Letts. (6). Com. In a quiet foreign exchange market most currencies moved narrow-ly, although guilders broke to a new low for the year on a few scat-tered sales and the silver currencies again slumped badly because of the weakness of the silver market.

Yesterday's decline continued apprehension over the effects on the south of the previous session of the forenoon trading, although at a somewhat less steep angle, and the uncovering of fur ther stop loss orders helped alons professional selling and other forced liquidation. The overnight mews that brokers' loans had increased more than $50,000,000 in Members.

Yesterday's gentlember 29, a period of falling prices in which a drow was expected, and increased apprehension over the effects on the South of the present low prices for cotton had already lowered the market's resistance.

Several influences then worked to steady quotations. In the first place, cotton opened higher and alroy was expected, and increased apprehension over the effects on the South of the present low prices for cotton had already lowered the market's resistance.

Several influences then worked to steady quotations. In the first place, cotton opened higher and slickened slightly after this news, decreased perceptibly just before noon, when the rate dropped to 4½ per cent. By that time the market seemed oversold and technical conditions stimulated the brief rally that followed.

STOCK EXCHANGE BANKS CAUTION IS URGED IN SPITE OF PROSPERITY

President Wells Is Speaker at Association Meeting in Los Angeles.

P.) — America is in a "state of great prosperity," Oscar Wells, of Birmingham, Ala., president of the American Bankers association, told the annual convention of the organization here today. The industrial output of the nation, he said. "is exceeding the estimates of the trade enthusiasts and our record trade enthusiasts and our record for efficiency is beyond dreams of an expert."

Meeting in their first general session, the bankers chose Houston, Tex. for the 1927 convention.

"Although fundamental condi-"Although fundamental condi-tions are encouraging and pros-pects may well be considered fair, bankers know that sooner or later the growth of expansion will re-ceive a halt," he said. "It has been so in the past and often enough to convince us that it will be so again. When the test comes, much will depend upon the sound-ness of the credit structure."

World prosperity will help this ness of the credit structure."

World prosperity will help this country, Mr. Wells said, launching into a discussion of the economic situation of the world. He urged TUESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1986.

Eldridge yesterday reported to the police he had revoked four and suspended 17 drivers' permits during the latter half of September.

The bridge cost $194,990.02 and, as usual in the case of such structures, Congress appropriated funds for the work with the attached condition that the Pennsylvania and dition that the Pennsylvania and B. & O. railroads, passing under it, should pay half the cost. The United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation, through its counsel, Peyton Gordon, district attorney; Chauncey G. Parker, Bolitha J. Laws and Henry E. Mrs. Meinburg and Mrs. Vernon were the plaintiffs in the courts. Vernon were the plaintiffs in the equity case and Gardiner was their attorney. Arguments on the de murrers will be heard next Friday.

Thousands Watch Play-by-Play Picture of Cardinals' World Series Victory.

AMPLIFIERS GIVE DETAILS

Braving the warmth of autumal sunshine that caused the therometer in the Pennsylvania avenue klosk to hover about the 90-degree mark, a crowd of several thousand baseball fans gathered in front of the Washington Post yesterday afternoon to watch the St. Louis Cardinals defeat the New York Yankees by a 4-to-2 victory.

The klosk was forgotten as the spectators kept their eyes fastened upon the Post scoreboard, where play after play was graphically re-produced, to the accompaniment of the descriptive radio. From all in-produced, to the accompaniment of the descriptive radio. From all indications, the crowd was a St. Louis one, greeting the brilliant showing made by Pitcher Haines with prolonged applause. There was no "roaring," however.

Coats were discarded by many of the watchers and the profuse display of handkerchiefs mopping damp brows would have delighted the soul of a haberdasher. One small, fat man, attired in a cool white suit and straw hat that fashion would have discarded on September 15, was an object of envy to those surrounding him. He appeared in the midst of the disheveled, perspiring crowd as a snow-flake in the center of a steaming plum-pudding. Nor was brandy lacking to the analogy. Two intoxicated men on the fringe of the big crowd twice narrowly escaped being run over by automobile trucks.

All in all, the crowd was as to Louis planting for special cars, and the official party one car. Other organizations planting for special cars, and the official party one car. Other organizations planting for special cars. Other organizations planting Advocating truth and honesty in advertising, Representative Thomas L. Blanton, of Texas, yesterday addressed the members of the Ad club at their luncheon in the City club.

Mr. Blanton cited some personal experiences in his congressional life to prove his point. He accused fellow congressmen of "ballyhooing" him at one time as a "faker" and termed him "the meanest man in Congress." The accusations created a mild sensation and spread throughout the country advertising the fact, as Mr. Blanton put it.

Finally the Texan said he proved and his vindicating acts were broadcast, which was honest advertising. Mr. Blanton said he favored suffrage for the people of the Dis-
